

Hebrews 1:1-4, 2:5-12

Let those that are in high places put themselves last—in a spirit of lowliness and service, love for people, humility, taking the lowest place—so long as the divine will does not call you to another, for in that case, you must obey. Obedience first of all—conformity to the will of God. If you are placed high, then keep yourself in humility of soul as though you were the last; occupy your high position as though you were there only to serve others and to lead them to salvation, and as if, though you may command them, you are rather serving them, for you command them only with the purpose of sanctifying them (Charles de Foucauld, Meditations of a Hermit, 1930).

Give me faith now to believe You can be all in all to me, according to my need, help me renounce all proud self-dependence and put my trust in You. May I keep it forever in my mind, that this human life was once divinely lived, and this world was once—in Christ—nobly overcome. And this human body—that now so sorely tries me—was made into Your perfect dwelling place (John Bailie, A Diary of Private Prayer, 1936).

How can we clear the clutter and corruption of our lives so the “imprint of God’s very Being” (which is in us) will be revealed?

From what is God in Christ delivering me?

In what new way will I demonstrate my faith in Christ?

Next week: Hebrews 3, 8th Annual Harvest Celebration!

Hebrews 1:1-4, 2:5-12

Let those that are in high places put themselves last—in a spirit of lowliness and service, love for people, humility, taking the lowest place—so long as the divine will does not call you to another, for in that case, you must obey. Obedience first of all—conformity to the will of God. If you are placed high, then keep yourself in humility of soul as though you were the last; occupy your high position as though you were there only to serve others and to lead them to salvation, and as if, though you may command them, you are rather serving them, for you command them only with the purpose of sanctifying them (Charles de Foucauld, Meditations of a Hermit, 1930).

Give me faith now to believe You can be all in all to me, according to my need, help me renounce all proud self-dependence and put my trust in You. May I keep it forever in my mind, that this human life was once divinely lived, and this world was once—in Christ—nobly overcome. And this human body—that now so sorely tries me—was made into Your perfect dwelling place (John Bailie, A Diary of Private Prayer, 1936).

How can we clear the clutter and corruption of our lives so the “imprint of God’s very Being” (which is in us) will be revealed?

From what is God in Christ delivering me?

In what new way will I demonstrate my faith in Christ?

Next week: Hebrews 3, 8th Annual Harvest Celebration!

October 7, 2018

Real Life in Christ

SCRIPTURE READINGS FOR THIS WEEK:

Today: Psalm 89 (What is God saying to you?)

Monday: 1 Samuel 2:27-36

Tuesday: Hebrews 11:1-31

Wednesday: Hebrews 11:32-12:2

Thursday: 2 Timothy 2:1-13

Friday: Revelation 2:8-11

Saturday: Matthew 25:1-30

LORD Jesus Christ, You demonstrated faithfulness in all of life, even to death on the Cross. Grant to me the grace and strength to faithfully follow You all the days of my life.

Amen

October 7, 2018

Real Life in Christ

SCRIPTURE READINGS FOR THIS WEEK:

Today: Psalm 89 (What is God saying to you?)

Monday: 1 Samuel 2:27-36

Tuesday: Hebrews 11:1-31

Wednesday: Hebrews 11:32-12:2

Thursday: 2 Timothy 2:1-13

Friday: Revelation 2:8-11

Saturday: Matthew 25:1-30

LORD Jesus Christ, You demonstrated faithfulness in all of life, even to death on the Cross. Grant to me the grace and strength to faithfully follow You all the days of my life.

Amen